【Terms & Conditions】

1. Party B shall complete the production of the promotional video in accordance with this Agreement and the requirements communicated by Party A via email or other mutually agreed communication channels. Party B shall publish the video on the agreed promotion platform on the mutually agreed Promotion Date. Party B shall ensure that all materials used in the video are lawful and do not infringe any third-party rights.
2. Party B shall submit the video draft to Party A for review prior to publication. The exact submission timeline shall be reasonably agreed upon by both parties based on the campaign schedule and operational requirements. Party A may provide revision requests, and Party B shall use commercially reasonable efforts to implement such revisions prior to publication. The final version of the video shall be subject to Party A's written approval via email or other agreed communication tools before posting.
3. Party B shall not publish any video without prior approval from Party A. If Party B publishes an unapproved or incorrect version of the video, Party A shall have the right, at its sole discretion, to:

- (a) require Party B to remove the video and re-upload the corrected version after approval;
 - (b) request a reasonable compensation or corrective action plan; or
 - (c) terminate this Agreement and withhold payment in case of material breach or refusal to cooperate.
4. If Party B is unable to publish the approved video on the agreed Promotion Date, Party B shall notify Party A as soon as reasonably practicable. Any change to the publication schedule shall be subject to mutual written agreement between both parties. If Party B fails to notify Party A in time or delays publication without approval, Party A shall have the right to terminate this Agreement and request compensation for any resulting losses.
 5. Unless otherwise agreed in writing by Party A, the published video shall remain live on the platform for a minimum period agreed by both parties. This includes all brand-related information such as captions, descriptions, and pinned comments. Any unauthorized removal of content may result in a proportional refund or compensation to Party A.
 6. Party B shall not engage in any conduct that may harm the reputation of Party A or its products during the cooperation period. Any defamatory, misleading, or malicious behavior shall constitute a material breach of this Agreement, and Party B shall be liable for any resulting damages.
 7. This Agreement may be terminated at any time by mutual written consent of both Parties. Either Party may terminate this Agreement in the event of a material breach by the other Party, subject to written notice and a reasonable opportunity to remedy the breach where applicable.
 8. All matters related to this Agreement shall be communicated through the official contact persons listed in this Agreement via email or agreed communication channels. Any change of contact information shall be promptly notified to the other Party. Failure to do so shall result in the notifying Party bearing any resulting consequences.
 9. This Agreement shall be governed by the laws of Hong Kong Special Administrative Region, without regard to its conflict of law principles. Any dispute arising out of or in connection with this Agreement shall be submitted to the Hong Kong International Arbitration Centre (HKIAC) for arbitration.
 10. This Agreement shall become effective on the date of signature by both Parties' authorized representatives. Electronic signatures shall have the same legal effect as handwritten signatures.
